OVERVIEW

► EIS

The Enterprise Investment Scheme's (EIS) centrality in the equity funding market for Small and Medium Enterprises (SME's) is demonstrated by the fact that it has survived famously volatile governments throughout that time, but it's also a testament to the scheme's importance in helping UK companies grow.

With the Chancellor recently stating that SME's, "are the champions of small enterprises and the entrepreneur," more and more people slowly realise what the EIS industry has understood for years: SMEs and entrepreneurs are the core of the UK economy.

EIS fills a gap that allows needed capital to reach some of the least developed and most unexplored areas. The good news for investors is that there's an endless supply of high-quality businesses to support.

► SEIS

The Seed Enterprise Investment Scheme (SEIS) offers great tax efficient benefits to investors in return for investment in small and early stage start-up businesses in the UK.

SEIS was designed to boost economic growth in the UK by promoting new enterprise and entrepreneurship. The scheme was introduced in the Chancellor George Osborne's 2011 Autumn Statement (and came in to force in April 2012) which heralded a big shake up of tax incentives for investors, with the Enterprise Investment Schemes and Venture Capital Trusts also being revamped.

Generally held to be one of the most successful government-backed schemes ever created, SEIS was designed to boost economic growth in the UK by promoting new enterprise and entrepreneurship.

An introduction
for investors

EIS Investment Scheme

EIS

- 30% of your investment is returned back to you as Income Tax Relief.
- Outstanding Capital Gains Tax Deferral.
- Inheritance Relief (100% IHT relief after two years).
- Capital Gains Tax free on disposal of Shares if held for 3 years or more.

The Investor

By investing in EIS and helping small UK businesses, it's only fair that the investor should benefit from their investment.

Investors can benefit in several ways, including:

- Investing in small promising companies can provide large potential investment returns.
- Unlike many traditional investments, EIS investors benefit from a closer relationship with the company they invest in.
- There are numerous valuable Tax Relief's available to investors. These can lower the risk of investing in a small business while increasing total earnings.

The Company

Small businesses have found it increasingly challenging to obtain traditional financing in recent years. Stricter lending standards, less support from banks, and broader limits on other kinds of finance mean that raising cash, no matter how good the company, can be challenging at times.

EIS offers British businesses a different way to fund their businesses. The funds raised can help with most aspects of development, such as creating new businesses, product launches, and entry into new markets.

EIS has contributed to the success of numerous businesses, both small and well-known.

The Country

The benefits EIS provides the UK economy and the country is why the government offers the tax benefits. Surprisingly, many people are unaware of these advantages.

Among the advantages are:

- Raising Income Tax and National Insurance from EIS company employees.
- EIS companies contribute to the Treasury through Corporation Tax, VAT, and other duties.
- Helping the economy grow.
- Helping create many new British businesses and job opportunities.

SEIS Investment Scheme

SEIS

- 50% of your investment is returned back to you as Income Tax Relief.
- 50% Capital Gains write off from current Tax Year.
- Capital Gains Tax free on disposal if held 3 years.
- Inheritance Relief (100% IHT relief after two years).

The Seed Enterprise Scheme (SEIS) is designed to help smaller companies raise money when they start to trade.

SEIS was introduced on 6 April 2012 and is modelled on the long standing Enterprise Investment Scheme (EIS), but offers more generous tax breaks to incentivise investors to invest in very early-stage companies - with all the additional risk that entails.

At the time of writing, the tax breaks are worth up to 64% of the amount invested, this includes income tax relief and capital gains tax relief.

A summary of the Tax Breaks:

- Income Tax Relief for the investor of up to 50% of the amount invested;
- Exemption from Capital Gains Tax on the disposal of SEIS shares;
- Losses on disposal of SEIS shares are allowable for Capital Gains Tax purposes;
- Capital gains tax reinvestment relief for chargeable gains reinvested into SEIS shares; and
- No Inheritance Tax once the shares have been held for two years.

A maximum of £250,000 can be raised by a company through SEIS investments, It is, of course, perfectly possible for a small company to raise more than £250,000 from a single share issue; however only £250,000 of the amount raised can qualify for SEIS.

To qualify for the SEIS scheme, and realise the tax advantages associated with the scheme, there are conditions that need to be met both by the company and the investor, at various stages before, during and after the share issue.

The tax advantages available under SEIS can be withheld or withdrawn from investors if the detailed rules are not followed for at least three years after an investment is made.

Life Tenancies have multiple factors that drive capital growth

INTRODUCING LIFE TENANCIES

About Life Tenancies

Life Tenancies are medium to long-term property investments which have multiple factors that drive capital growth. Created through Life Tenancy Investments' (LTI) established partner, a Life Tenancy is a UK residential property that is subject to a Lifetime Lease which has been acquired by one or more persons aged over 60.

A Lifetime Lease provides tenant(s), referred to as Life Tenants or Lifetime Lease Owners, with the right to live in their chosen property for their lifetime(s), or until such time as they move into permanent long-term care or vacate the property for other personal reasons.

Life Tenancies are priced at significantly less than their respective RICS vacant possession valuation (VPV), with discounts typically upwards of 40%. The younger the Life Tenants, the larger the discount that is available to investors against the vacant possession valuation.

On purchase, the investor becomes the registered owner of the property at Land Registry, with a Lifetime Lease recorded against the property in favour of the Life Tenants.

Life Tenancies have multiple factors that drive capital growth

House Price Inflation

Investors benefit from exposure to House Price Inflation (HPI) on the full value of the property purchased, despite having purchased the property at a discount from Vacant Possession Valuation (VPV).

Increasing Age

As the Life Tenants increase in age, the potential investment value increases, irrespective of HPI performance. Simply put, the older the Life Tenants become, the higher the likelihood that the property will revert to the investor.

Occupancy Change

If a Life Tenancy with two occupants reduces to one occupant, the potential investment value increases immediately.

Improvements

Life Tenants frequently make improvements to the property, such as home decoration or renovation, which will often contribute to a rise in the VPV and investment value.

A Unique Asset Class

Whether it is a novice investor looking to explore their options or a seasoned professional in the market for new opportunities, Life Tenancy Investments could help them realise substantial capital returns.

Airspace and Infill Developments

“With plots in short supply, experts look to airspace to solve London’s housing crisis.”

Castlemere Developments is behind the launch of a pioneering new airspace development business that creates aspirational and affordable modular penthouse living environments for the private residential market across London and the South East.

Using technology and modern construction methods, we create untapped value in existing residential and mixed-use buildings in high-density locations. We do this by utilising their unused rooftops.

Working in collaboration with leading modular construction companies, we factory build high specification low-cost contemporary penthouse apartments off-site. Once complete, these apartments are transported to the site, before being craned into position.

The entire cycle from design, construction to delivery and completion of the development is six months—compared to the typical 15-18 months of a standard new build development.

The significantly shorter timeframe and certainty of build costs ensure we reduce our exposure to market-driven forces while minimising risk. Consequently, this enables us to increase returns for our stakeholders.

Castlemere Developments also offers a unique proposition—delivering well-designed, contemporary new-build penthouse living environments to the market without the attached premium. As a comparison, our homes are delivered up to 30% cheaper and are priced similarly to older market stock.

YOUR JOURNEY, OUR SPIRIT

“Take life with a pinch of salt. A shot of tequila and a wedge of lime.

Do nothing at all
But take your time.”

John Walter Bratton

BRADLEY YARRINGTON - CEO

From the success of Brosé Wine, Bradley has set his sights on creating a larger alcoholics drinks portfolio. Including the recently launched Broski Whisky. He is now focusing his efforts on launching a revolutionary green agave-based tequila called Broquila. Giving a total of three alcohol brands within the Bro drinks group.

Bradley’s vision and exit plan, is to build up the brands across the board and look to sell them to a large conglomerate such as Diageo, Pernod Ricard or Heineken Star Group in the future.

- We are excited to welcome you to the world of Broquila Founded in July 2024. We are a next-generation tequila brand that is here to freshen up the tequila drinks industry and get people thinking differently about the green agave spirit! Our product uses green agave, because it’s the lowest calorie alcoholic drink and the cleanest alcohol you can consume. Today we are pleased to introduce you to Broquila and share the key points of our presentation and the benefits of being an early investor

- Our green agave-based tequila spirit is perfectly positioned for the current market, appealing to health-conscious individuals looking for a lower calorie intake when drinking alcohol. As well as supporting a spirit that is highly sustainable and good for the environment which is becoming a significant reason for consumers to by specific alcohol brands that are aligned with their own values. Green agave plants require very little water and can grow in arid environments, where other crops struggle to survive. They also contribute to soil health by preventing erosion and retaining moisture

- The primary audience for the growing tequila market are aged between 25-45, who now make up 48% of the global consumer base. They have significant purchasing power, equating to over $140 billion worth of spending worldwide. Marketing towards this audience will ensure our brands fast growth plan and longevity

- Broquila aligns itself perfectly for the growing health-conscious consumer. Our green agave-based tequila can take advantage of this and capture a sizeable percentage of the younger target audience

Where we are going

First Six Months

Broquila will initially launch online across the UK via our website

www.broquila.co.uk

The website will be optimised for e-commerce and integrate seamlessly with our fulfilment centre Fidelity based in the UK. Providing next day delivery.

We will push our social media presence heavily, creating premium content and look for commercial partnerships.

Year One

We will be growing consistent monthly sales via e-commerce on Amazon Prime, Threshers, The Bottle Club, and Drinks Direct

We will get Broquila listed with UK On-Trade drinks distributors including, Swallow Drinks, Inn Express, LWC, Matthew Clark, and Bibendum. This will get Broquila into hotels, restaurants, bars and pubs throughout the UK.

Year Two

Now that we have established Broquila in the UK market, we will continue this growth by approaching retailers via the platform Range.me, giving Broquila access to the buyers at Waitrose, Tesco, Sainsburys and Morrisons. Ensuring Broquila is listed nationally within the retail space.

We will introduce our additional product lines including the Broquila canned cocktails.

Listed across the UK on Amazon Prime and www.broquila.co.uk

The Source

Our green agave-based tequila used for Broquila is sourced from the state Jalisco in Mexico. This area is famous for agave growing due to the soil, topography, and climate which are recognised as being ideal for producing green agave.

The distinctive red soil creates a micro-terroir that is rich in iron oxide and has a high level of acidity. The mix of clay and silt encourages healthy plant growth.

The company's fresh produce can therefore get from farm to fork swiftly, sustainably and hygienically, cutting out the various costs and chemicals associated with conventional processing.

OUR FUTURE

ASSISTED LIVING PROJECT

“The UK’s largest REITs are worth billions of pounds”

Our Objective is to provide an income stream that remains contractually ahead of inflation, underpinned by a real asset that is already fully built, eliminating any planning or construction risk and delays.

Investors can take comfort in the fact the assets are income producing from day one with the relevant leases for 25 years which are already in place and funded by the Department for Work and Pension (DWP).

Everyone deserves a place they can call home – a safe-haven they can rely on long term. But none more so than those with enduring illnesses. How can they expect to take care of themselves with dignity and certainty if they do not have a living space that fits their specialist needs?

At the Assisted Living Project, we are dedicated to enhancing the lives of people with enduring illnesses across the UK by housing those who need it most. As an independent UK property organisation, our primary focus is on providing exceptional assisted living accommodation to meet the unique needs of our valued tenants.

EXPLORING THE INSURANCE BOND

The insurance bond is commonly used in litigation. In this instance, its primary purpose is to safeguard investor capital in the unlikely event that a loan agreement mis-selling case or business energy claim is unsuccessful.

Purchased after the dispute has arisen and once barristers have agreed to pursue the case, the insurance bond covers a range of legal costs, including court fees, expert witness fees, legal representation fees (barristers and solicitors) and other disbursements related to the case. It also covers costs that may be awarded against the claimant if they lose the case. The cost of acquiring the insurance bond is incorporated into the minimum funding amount for each case.

KWS Litigation prioritises investor protection and as such, we have instituted an insurance bond within our corporate structure. Upon onboarding new investors, we promptly inform our FCA-regulated broker. From here, the investor's contribution is seamlessly integrated into the insurance bond cover, comprehensively covering investor funds. Indemnifying the investor, the insurance bond ensures that the principal sum is reimbursed in the unlikely event that the case is unsuccessful.

For investor peace of mind, KWS Law is regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA). At the same time, the policy is underwritten by leading, regulated insurance bond providers and issued through FCA-regulated brokers.

Redefining Sustainable
Urban Transport

About

Cityshuttle has been in R&D mode for the last 24 months. During this time, we've built a truly game-changing range of products within the v (Electrically Assisted Pedal Cycle) market, focusing on E-cargo solutions, urban transport and Digital out of Home Advertising (DOOH).

Immediately after our official launch, we generated interest from blue-chip brands for all three models - excited to explore a commercial partnership after experiencing how valuable they can be.

Just over 3 months later, we have already amassed multiple Letter of Intents with potential orders worth over £11,000,000, with more interested parties giving us written confirmation of their interest every week.

Cityshuttle is now positioned to mass-manufacture and manage a sustainable transport business, and the timing is perfect to address the changing dynamic in the UK's (and world's) transport environment.

Experts agree that Banking as a Service (BaaS) is driving the digital transformation in business.

Increasing numbers of non-finance digital brands are embracing BaaS to retain customers and increase their lifetime value. The BaaS model allows corporate clients to brand a white-label banking platform like Techcap as their own, giving them greater financial control whilst enhancing brand and data recognition.

Corporates can then offer financial services to their existing underlying customers, without the costs and risks associated with becoming a fully branded and authorised bank themselves.

Techcap aims to connect corporates and their customers through modern financial technology solutions for today and the future, and combines all essential banking functions into a single platform.

Built in partnership with best-of-class practitioners, Techcap provide an end-to end infrastructure that delivers frictionless payments including cross border, online and mobile, using advanced tools capture data to optimise payments, drive conversions, block fraud and increase revenues.

As well as providing real-time, multi-currency transactional settlement of financial services, The Techcap platform also includes a global lifestyle concierge service, including loyalty programs, exclusive offers and discounts, with bespoke itineraries.
